Advancing Wisconsin's Healthcare and Education

November 10-11, 2016
Madison Marriott West

Co-sponsored by: Wisconsin Council on Medical Education and Workforce (WCMEW) and Wisconsin Area Health Education Center (AHEC) System

Conference Description

This Thursday-Friday conference is designed to bring together educational institutions and health care facilities from across Wisconsin. The event is being presented through a partnership of the statewide Wisconsin Area Health Education Center (AHEC) System and the Wisconsin Council on Medical Education and Workforce (WCMEW).

Objectives of the conference include:

- Engage with colleagues practicing in healthcare and education interested in interprofessional education (IPE) and interprofessional clinical practice (IPCP).
- Develop and build on knowledge and skills across the spectrum of IPE and IPCP program development.
- Learn the current state of IPE and IPCP, theory-based best practices, and lessons learned in the field.
- Advance and sustain IPE and IPCP to facilitate effective and patient-centered health care education and practice.

Dedicated time will also be provided for attendees to network, share successes, best practices and challenges.

Conference Agenda (see below)

Who Should Attend

- Faculty / instructors who value interprofessional education (IPE)
- Clinicians who value interprofessional clinical practice (IPCP)
- Administrators and others interested in bringing together IPE and IPCP
- Professionals in all disciplines are encouraged to participate! This event is designed for all who design and support interprofessional team-based care initiatives, including IPE and IPCP.
